

Content delivery spec

Exactly what to send us so your channel goes on air first time: files, ad breaks, metadata, logo and ident.

1 • Video & audio files

Send your best master. We re-encode everything to one Asiko profile. What matters is that your files are clean, consistent and follow the rules below.

ITEM	REQUIRED	NOTES
Container	MP4 or MOV	One file per programme or episode. No split parts.
Video codec	H.264 (or ProRes / H.265 mezzanine)	High bitrate is fine. Minimum 8 Mbps at 1080p.
Resolution	1920×1080 (preferred) or 1280×720	16:9. No letterbox burned into a 4:3 frame. Don't upscale SD to HD.
Frame rate	25 fps, constant	Or your native rate (24 / 29.97 / 30), but the same across all your files . No variable frame rate (common with phone footage).
Scan	Progressive	De-interlace before sending.
Audio	AAC or PCM, stereo, 48 kHz	One stereo mix. Dialogue and music on the same track. No silent or mono-in-one-ear tracks.
Loudness	−23 LUFS integrated (±1), true peak ≤ −1 dBTP	Stops your channel being louder or quieter than the one next to it.
Clean start / end	1–2 s of black at head and tail	No colour bars, countdown clocks or slates inside the programme file.
On-screen graphics	No channel logo burned in	We add your logo consistently at encode (see §4). Subtitles burned in are fine if the programme needs them.
Ad breaks	No ads inside the file	Leave the programme clean. Tell us the break points instead (§2).

2 · Ad-break cue points

Mark where a break can go: natural pauses, scene changes, act ends. We insert ads there, not in the middle of a line of dialogue.

- ◆ Roughly one break every 12-15 minutes of programme.
- ◆ Give each cue as a timecode (`HH:MM:SS`) from the start of the file, in the metadata sheet (§3).
- ◆ If you already have fade-to-black break points, just list them. No re-edit needed.
- ◆ Short programmes under 10 minutes need no cue. We place breaks between programmes.

3 · Metadata sheet

One row per file, as a spreadsheet (we send a template). It feeds the programme guide viewers see and the ad targeting.

COLUMN	EXAMPLE
File name	<code>movieafrica_the-return_s01e03.mp4</code> , i.e. <code>channel_title_sXXeYY</code> , lowercase, no spaces
Title / episode title	The Return · Episode 3: Homecoming
Synopsis	One or two sentences, max 250 characters
Duration	00:47:12
Genre	Drama
Language · subtitles	Yoruba · English subtitles
Age rating	All / 13+ / 16+ / 18+
Ad-break cues	00:12:40, 00:24:05, 00:36:30
Rights window	Start and end dates, territories (e.g. worldwide, excluding ...)
Thumbnail	1920×1080 JPG still, no text, one per programme

4 · Logo, ident & slate

These make it look like your channel. Send them once, at the start.

1 Channel logo, on-screen version

PNG with a transparent background, at least 400 px wide, readable on dark and light footage (a white or single-colour version works best). We place it in the top-right corner of every programme at encode time, the same on every screen. Also send an SVG if you have one, for the app and website.

Channel ident

A 5–10 second video (same spec as §1) with your logo and channel name. It plays between programmes. Optional: a second ident for going into and coming out of breaks ("back after this...").

Off-air slate

A 1920×1080 still (or a 10 s video) with your logo. It is shown if a programme fails to load, instead of a black screen.

4

Brand colour

One hex colour (e.g. `#D8A94B`). It is used for your channel's accents in the Asiko app.

5 · Schedule

Tell us the running order. The simplest form: a list of file names in the order they should play, which loops when it reaches the end. Put new episodes at the point in the list where you want them.

movieafrica_ident.mp4
movieafrica_the-return_s01e01.mp4
movieafrica_the-return_s01e02.mp4
movieafrica_ident.mp4
movieafrica_lagos-nights.mp4
...

Aim for at least 20–40 hours of programming to start, so viewers don't see repeats the same day. Dated schedules ("Friday 20:00 premiere") are coming. Tell us if you need them.

6 · How to deliver

1

We send you an upload link

A private upload page for your channel's library. Or send a Google Drive / Dropbox / WeTransfer link and we upload for you.

2

Upload brand assets first

The logo has to be in place before your programmes are encoded. Otherwise they need re-encoding.

3

Upload programmes + the metadata sheet

File names must match the sheet exactly.

4

We check and confirm

Within 2 working days we tell you which files passed, and what to fix on any that didn't. Then your channel goes on air.

Top reasons files get sent back: variable frame rate (phone or screen recordings), a logo already burned in, audio on one side only, very quiet or clipped audio, colour bars or ads left in the file, and file names that don't match the sheet.
